

Wandy on Way North---Spiders Meet Yellow Jackets

GENERALS TAKE LIGHT WORK-OUT

Signal Drill Instead of Scrimmage—Several Men Not in Good Shape.

Lexington, Va., October 29.—Washington and Lee contended itself with a brisk signal drill and practice this afternoon. As the second team will play Fishburne Thursday it was not deemed advisable to risk a scrimmage. As the result of severe training several of the players have developed slight injuries. Miller, Nebbett and Young are not in proper form. In practice Coach Dowd assigned Lile to the questioned position in the backfield, while Nebbett appeared at right guard.

Teach Expect Victory.

Roanoke, Va., October 29.—The football squad of Virginia Polytechnic Institute rapidly is rounding into form for the game with Washington and Lee to be played here Saturday. While the team representing the Polys this year is the lightest the school ever sent out, it is made up of as fast, scrappy a lot of players as ever played together, and can be counted on to give the veteran Washington and Lee team a hard battle. Every man on the P. I. team is expecting a victory, notwithstanding W. and L. outstrips them over fifteen pounds to the man in weight. Legge and Paris both are punting well, and the latter has been doing some excellent place kicking since his return to the line several days ago. V. P. I. will rely upon Legge to kick field goals. The entire team is in the best of spirits, and with the exception of Coffee, right tackle, came through the Carolina game in excellent shape. After a short rest Coffee will be in fine fettle again. The team will reach here at 11:30 Saturday morning, while the student body will follow on a special train, arriving at 3 o'clock. The game begins at 3 o'clock.

TURNER REJOINS YELLOW JACKETS

Big Tackle Finally Decides to Return to Fray After Lay Off.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
Ashland, Va., October 29.—The Yellow Jackets football squad is hard at work in preparation for the first championship game of the season with William and Mary College. The game will be played in Ashland, and at the same time Richmond College will be playing Harrison-Sidney in its first championship contest. Members of the Yellow Jacket team and many of the student body, who were on the side lines, were delighted on Monday afternoon when "Tad" Turner, the big tackle of last year's championship team, came out on the field in his football suit.

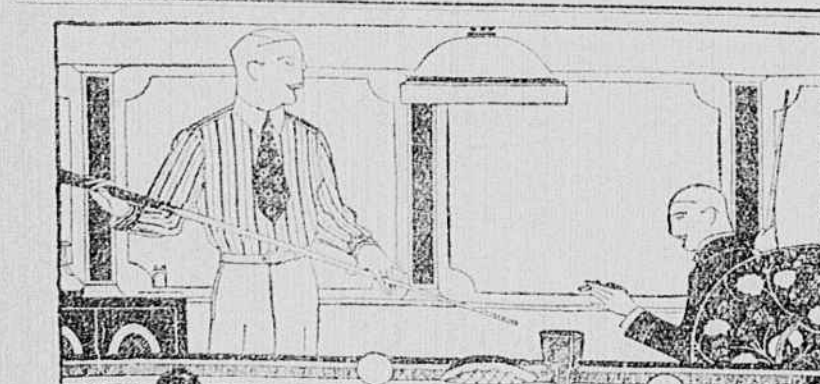

Turner had positively decided not to come out this year, but the line of the Yellow Jackets has proved so weak that several persons persuaded Turner to come out. He went through the light work of the preliminary practice, and hopes to get in condition to do some service to the team. No scrimmages will be held Tuesday, but a long signal drill was gone through, and the varsity was on the field until dark.

This afternoon, after a run around the field and a short practice in blocking, the whole squad was devoted to a scrimmaging "V" it was the longest scrimmage of the season, and the varsity had little trouble in scoring touchdowns after touchdown. Driver and Blount played the halves, Sherry, full, and Egan, center. The longest scrimmage of the season, and the varsity had little trouble in scoring touchdowns after touchdown. It was entirely dark when two teams left the field, and the players were pretty well worn out, but Coach Roberts said that this was the last scrimmage that would be held this week. The remaining two days before the William and Mary game will be devoted to light work.

Three guards have been out the entire week, and Coach Roberts is working hard to strengthen the line.

VIRGINIA AND VANDY TUNED FOR STRUGGLE

Commodores Off for Charlottesville, 18 Strong—McGuigan Not Sure of Victory.

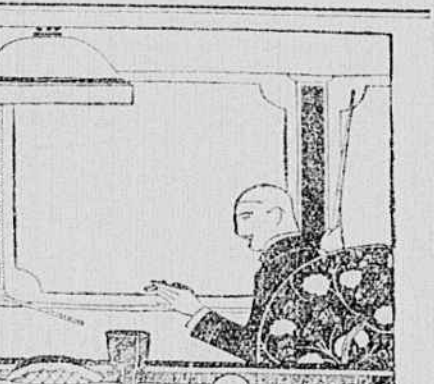

Nashville, Tenn., October 29.—Cheered by 400 enthusiastic students, the Commodores boarded the train to-night at 9:30 o'clock for Charlottesville, where they face the strong University of Virginia eleven Saturday in what should be the bitterest and hardest fought battle staged in the South this season. Vanderbilt's usual confidence of winning is absent, following the overwhelming defeat at the hands of Michigan last Saturday's setback. The coaches have been working desperately with the men this week, and today they went through another hard scrimmage, when they will again have a glimpse of the desperate struggle he is in.

Eighteen men took the trip in addition to the crippled Tom Brown, who makes the trip on crutches as the guest of the Athletic Association. They are: Morgan, Hoffman, Askew, Murray, Chester, E. Brown (captain), White, Cohen, Preston, Roenach, Sherry, Turner, McQueen, Warren, Putnam, Lowe, Curry, and In and Curry. The men are in good condition.

The trip to Charlottesville will be made in easy stages. The first stop is to-morrow night at East Radford, Va., where Vanderbilt will have a light scrimmage. The team will spend the night there and arrive at Lynchburg the following afternoon, when they will have a light scrimmage. Saturday morning they are scheduled to reach Charlottesville, where they will have a light scrimmage.

Turns Form Somersault and Wins Over Field in Easy Fashion.

Lafayette, Ky., October 29.—With a good program of six races scheduled, a big crowd turned out at Lafayette today. The weather was cold and the track deep in mud. Flabbergast turned somewhat of a form somersault when he easily led his field home in the handicap at a mile and one-sixteenth. Jockey Borel was in great form, piloting the winners of the first, second and fourth races out of three mounts. Cash on Delivery scored his third straight victory of the meeting when he easily ran away from his field in the fifth race, winning by five lengths. Bronze Wing won the handicap for two-year-olds at six furlongs by a head. Sir Marion won the second race, and Loblolly Vale graduated from the maiden ranks when she galloped off with the first.

Orange and Blue Driven Hard in Final Scrimmage Before Mighty Clash.

Charlottesville, Va., October 29.—Virginia's football team was driven at a terrific clip today in what was, perhaps, the last scrimmage before the battle with Vanderbilt on Saturday. Two former gridiron stars, "Empty" Cooke and Kemper Yancey, joined the coaching squad, bringing the total up to seven. These men watched every movement of the regulars, and there was little that escaped their attention. The daily scrimmage with the scrubs was fast and furious, and lasted for over half an hour. Fuller threw a bomb into the varsity camp at the very outset when he snatched up a fumbled ball and ran nearly the entire length of the field for a touchdown, closely pursued by the foe.

Evans, the former Virginia Polytechnic Institute tackle, also gave the varsity forwards a plenty to do. He made one or two spectacular dashes through the line, but Cooke soon got in his work and the holes closed up. Two touchdowns were made by the regulars, but in the scoring of them nearly a half-dozen varsity men were forced to drop out of the line-up at different times, and one or two of them were sent to the gymnasium.

A thorough signal practice followed the scrimmage. This was kept up until it was too dark to distinguish one player from another. Assistant Coach Harris's third team defeated the Charlottesville High School eleven, 37 to 0.

Finalists in Fall Golf Tournament at Country Club of Virginia.

The semifinal rounds of the fall golf tournament at the Country Club of Virginia have now been concluded, and the finals in a four-man playoff are scheduled for Saturday.

CADETS BEATEN IN GAME STRUGGLE AGAINST ACADEMY

Benedictine College	0	2	.000

Richmond Academy defeated the Benedictine College yesterday afternoon at Broad Street Park by a score of 20 to 0. The Academy boys outplayed the Cadets at every stage of the game.

Three touchdowns were made and two goals kicked. Whitlock, the Academy left end, made the prettiest play of the game and scored the first touchdown. A forward pass by Morrison to Cheatwood was intercepted by him and he ran fifty yards for a touchdown. D. Roden, center for the Academy, played a great game. Breaking through the Cadet line he would tackle his man for a loss of five or ten yards.

Owens, the Academy tackle, also played a good game, in fact every man on the eleven played hard and well, but the work of those three men was a feature.

Benedictine College kicked to Academy and Pitt received the oval. After the ball had changed hands three times and the Cadets holding it, a forward pass by Morrison to Cheatwood was intercepted by Whitlock, and he ran with it fifty yards for a touchdown. Captain Pitt kicked goal and the score stood 7 to 0 in favor of the Academy.

Pitt then kicked and Amos, Cadet left half back, received, but after a broken field run of thirty yards, he fumbled and "Little Eddie" Roden picked it up and carried it back ten yards before being downed by the team fought hard for the rest of that quarter. When the whistle blew the Academy was in possession of the ball on the Cadet's thirty-yard line.

Benedictine College on her first down fumbled the pigskin, and Fletcher, for Benedictine, fell on it. The Cadets then started playing in their old form, and by hard line plunges, gradually worked their way down the field, but when on the Academy twenty-five-yard line, fumbled, and Whitlock fell on the oval. The Academy, on a forward pass by Pitt to Whitlock, won back twenty yards of the lost ground. It lost the ball on downs, and the Cadets worked their way back to the Academy's fifteen-yard line, where they were when time was called. That ended the first half. By the brace the Cadets took, it looked as if they were going to make a touchdown, and the whistle blew all that stopped them.

In the second half, the Cadets kicked to the Academy, and after a line plunge by Pitt for ten yards, an end run by Little Eddie and a forward pass, which netted them thirty yards, Owens broke through the line and ran over the remaining twenty yards for the second touchdown. Pitt missed goal, and the score was changed to 13 to 0. The Academy then kicked to Benedictine, and Amos received the ball and made a pretty run for eighteen yards. The Cadets then made it down twice, but they weakened (or the Academy strengthened), and the oval changed hands. The Academy tried a forward pass, but it was intercepted by Fletcher, and he carried it thirty-five yards before D. Roden tackled him. In a mix-up, Owens, Academy's full back, was the victor.

IN THE WAKE OF THE GAME

By Guy Malbert

In all probability, the question of football supremacy in the South Atlantic division, as well as in the South, will be determined Saturday. There will be but one game which will have any direct bearing on the final rating of the eleven after that date—Auburn and Vanderbilt. True, Auburn meets Louisiana State in Mobile on Saturday, and should Auburn lose, things will be badly jumbled, for neither the Commodores nor Virginia will meet the warriors from the Crescent City. However, unless the dope is badly added, Virginia will win from Vanderbilt and Auburn will take the measure of the far Southerners.

The Vanderbilt of 1912 is not the Vanderbilt of 1913. If proof of this assertion is needed, reference to the Michigan game of last Saturday is all that is necessary. The Wolverines, despite every effort on the part of Yost, fail to measure up to former standards. Michigan Aggies found them easy pickings, and they have failed to meet this far. Yet this weakened outfit rolled up the largest score against Vanderbilt since the two institutions have engaged in annual strife.

By the same token Virginia is stronger this season than last, despite the showing made against Georgia. There are many things not known generally which contribute to this superiority. The Virginia team is on foreign territory and was not handed the best of treatment from exultant players, students or officials. An exultant crowd, however, is not a crowd, and the Virginia team is a team. No holler has been heard from Charlottesville. To the credit of the team, no holler has been heard from Charlottesville. To the credit of the team, no holler has been heard from Charlottesville. To the credit of the team, no holler has been heard from Charlottesville.

Everything points to a Virginia victory, yet there may be an upset. The game of to-day presents so many angles, admits of so many varieties of play, that form frequently is discarded by the gliding toe of a youngster not counted as a factor until after the fray. The Commodores come North with a bunch of toemen and in Virginia will be their chief strength. Virginia has probably the best backfield in years, with Moyer, Landes, Ray and Bobbie Gooch. Gooch is a wonderful brokenfield runner and uses rare uniform. Undoubtedly it will be proved that he is one of the best backs ever developed in this section.

From Charlottesville comes the report that fully 5,000 will witness the contest. Alumni of the University of Virginia will gather from all quarters. Several of the organizations have chosen this date as the date for a reunion. Frank Dobson has a team which will give a good account of itself. If the Presbyterians win it will be a surprise. Dobson has by no means shown all that he has in stock. The men are on edge, and he has managed with a light team to build up both a wonderful and whirlwind attack and an almost unbelievable defense. Not an injury is reported among the first string, and some of the second string men have begun to wake up and take a real interest in the game.

Local interest for the stay-at-homes will center in the game between Richmond College and Hampden-Sidney, a championship game, by the way, in the race for the premier honors in the Eastern Virginia Inter-Collegiate Association. While the Spiders are engaged with the youngsters from Farmville, Randolph-Macon will be entertaining William and Mary in Ashland in another championship battle. Nothing is known of the Williamsburg crowd save the optimistic reports sent abroad, but the Yellow Jackets have a formidable outfit, and Reiss is improving his crop right along.

Upon the result of the Washington and Lee-V. P. I. game in Roanoke will

ALBRIGHT HOLDS HIS TITLE SAFE

Throws Olsen Two Straight Falls—Herbert Finds Nelson Easy Mark.

Con. Albright, the middleweight champion wrestler of the world, successfully defended his title last night when he threw Young Olsen, the middleweight champion wrestler of Sweden, England and Canada. The first fall was made after 1 hour, 25 minutes and 30 seconds. The second one required only 2 minutes.

Young Olsen was handicapped by the hard fall and had hurt his back when wrestling in Norfolk, but up to the time when he was thrown on the steps of the reserved seats and knocked out, he gave Albright all the fight that he wanted. After hurting his back he was sent to his corner until it was decided whether or not he was in condition to continue the match. After being worked on for about 15 minutes he went back. Albright then threw him in 2 minutes. The fall was by a double-leg hold.

The match between George Harbert and Young Nelson was a comedy. Harbert went after Nelson hard and won the first fall in 5 minutes. The second fall came in the short time of 1 minute with a hammerlock hold.

Fred Westfield made his debut as a referee and gave eminent satisfaction.

Invincibles vs. Pets.
The Grove Avenue Pets and the Little Invincibles will meet at Broad Street Park this afternoon at 4 o'clock. The game will be hard fought. The teams have met once before this season, the Invincibles having the large end of a 12 to 5 score. The teams will be picked from the following:

Invincibles—Conrad, House, O'Dell, Mayre, Burman, James, Christian, Bauer (captain), Pullen, M. Watkins, K. Watkins, Brown, Word, Beasley, Sands, Whitmore.

Grove Avenue Pets—J. Flannigan, R. Flannigan, Bernstein, Drinard, C. Hughlett, J. Hughlett, Merkey, Ross, Smith (manager), Ryan (captain), Egan.

ISADORA GIVES TALENT A JOLT

Defeats Classy Field Before Large Crowd of Army and Society Folks.

Laurel Park Race Track, Md., October 29.—Before a large crowd of army people and society folks, Captain P. M. Walker's Isadora joined the talent this afternoon by defeating a classy field in the free handicap at six furlongs.

Captain E. B. Cassatt's Springfield was figured to be a match for Isadora, but the talent was less than even.

Springfield ran outside the money, while Isadora got up in a spectacular finish and bested her rivals. Johnson, of Maryland, ran a remarkable race, finishing second, and the Maryland millionaires, post, R. P. Parr, the Maryland millionaires, won the steeplechase with Shannon River, and the victory was the day's most popular happening.

J. B. Johnson was a close third, finishing second, and the Maryland millionaires, post, R. P. Parr, the Maryland millionaires, won the steeplechase with Shannon River, and the victory was the day's most popular happening.
